RUSSIAN COSSACKS.

The Extraordinary Drill of a Regiment of These Wild Cavalrymen.

General Kostanda, Governor of Moscow, last week permitted the representatives of some Paris journals to visit the barracks of Chadynskoi, which are occupied by a regiment of Cossacks of the Don, and here is the description which one of the writers gives of the wonder-ful performances of the cavalry of the

"The drill of the Cossacks is some "The drill of the Cossacs is some-thing marvelous. We came to witness it just at the moment when Colonel Ilovaiski rode up at a full gallop in front of the squadrons in line. In this country the commander of a regiment never appears before his troops without saluting them and pronouncing the following words: 'Idorovo molodiay!' ('Good morning, my fine fellows!') To this salutation the entire regiment re-sponds: 'We wish your lordship good health!'

"The troops then scattered, and the maneuvering began. It was simply astounding, and the Frenchmen who witnessed it, ten in number, on the invitation of Colonel Iloyaiski, will never forget it as long as they live.

"Imagine the most extravagant equestrian programme of a circus, the complete repertoire of Buffalo Bill's Indians, enriched by the most extraordinary va-plete repertoire of Buffalo Bill's Indians, enriched by the most extraordinary variations—everything that is delicate, comical, magnificent, and wild in the equestrian art. All this was displayed before as for two-long hours by 1,000 men in a tempest of dust and movement sufficient to make the coolest head dizzy. We saw horses bounding like magnifications and men invaring like magnifications. ment sufficient to make the coolest head dizzy. We saw horses bounding like panthers and men jumping like monkeys. We saw cavelrymen booted, with their carbines across their backs and their sabers in their hands, charging while standing upright upon their saddles. Others would pass at full speed beside Cossacks stretched upon the ground, pick them up like pocket handkerchiefs, and carry them off across the croups of their saddles. Others again would pivot upon their saddles and croups of their saddles. Others again would pivot upon their saddles and play all the antics of circusclowns. One horse, tripping upon some obstacle, apparently rolled completely over the rider. We thought he was killed upon the spot, but he jumped up, laughing heartly while he rearranged his dam-

"When the maneuver was finished "When the maneuver was finished the defile began. Thrice the squadrons defiled before their colonel, first at a walk, then at a tret, and lastly at a charge. The charge was something terrific. The Cossac's are armed and equipped in such a manner that at a distance it is impossible either to see or to hear them. The uniforms are somber; the scabbards are of leather and their weapons are darkened. There is their weapons are darkened. There is no flashing or clashing of steel, and lit-tle or no sound. And yet the whole troop of men and horses pass noiselessly by at full speed, like a living squall. by at full speed, like a living squall. The colonel scrutinized the appearance of each squadron, and, satisfied with the performance, shouted, 'Karacho!' ('Very good!') to which the double row of Cossacks replied, 'Rady staratz', vasche ryesokoblagorodie!' ('We will do still better yet, your lordship!') And the cine, too. They guarante it to do exact-ly what it claims, viz: to cure leucor-rhea, painful irregularities, excessive flowing, prolapsus, inflammation or ulceration of the ulcrus, and the inulceration of the uterus, and the in-numerable other "female weaknesses." It so strengthens and builds up the uterine system, and nerves, that worn-out, run-down wives and mothers feel rejuvenated after taking it, and they are saved the painful embarrassment and expense of a surgical examination and a tedious, tiresome treatment.
